Description

A small family business located in the heart of Herzegovina which abounds in natural beauties and a great number of sunny days that magnificently work in favour of medicinal herbs, because the sun, the stone and fasting Herzegovinian soil is something that benefits the medicinal herbs. We are proud of every step forward we made in our business. We considered a challenge the Herzegovinian nature, ecology, rock, sun, microclimate and autochthonous vegetation from which we learned and mastered our knowledge. Water vapour goes through the biomass and takes the odorants while passing. In a separate container with cold water (condenser) a condensation of water vapour takes place i.e. the mixture formation of the hydrolates and oil, and a separation of the water respectively scented water or hydrolat from the essential oils is done in the Florentine bottle.
