Description

Inmold is a family-owned company which was established in 2006. The primary business of the company Inmold is the production of high quality injection molds for plastic and non-ferrous metal. Our specialty is the production of injection molds for thin-wall packaging and injection molds for technical components. Besides molds, we manufacture IML robots. Our sense of quality is present in each project phase, beginning with the first contact with the client, product development to the manufacturing and final product. Bearing this in mind, we can proudly say that the foundations of our business lie in top quality and client relations. Our company owns and successfully implements ISO 900 and ISO 14001 standards.
